

Apogee Enterprises Appoints Two New Business Segment Presidents

August 7, 2025

MINNEAPOLIS--(BUSINESS WIRE)--Aug. 7, 2025-- Apogee Enterprises, Inc. (Nasdaq: APOG), a leading provider of architectural building products and services, as well as high-performance coated materials used in a variety of applications, today announced the appointment of two new business segment presidents. The Company announced that effective August 7, 2025, Nick Longman will resign as President of the Architectural Metals Segment. Troy Johnson will take the role of President of the Architectural Metals Segment, replacing Mr. Longman, and Matt Christian will take the role of President of the Architectural Services Segment, succeeding Mr. Johnson.

"Troy and Matt are Apogee veterans and I am excited by the skills and experience they will bring to their new roles," said Ty R. Silberhorn, Chief Executive Officer. "Troy is a proven leader with an impressive record of delivering results and creating value. Matt has deep business and industry knowledge, along with transformational leadership skills that will make him a valuable addition to our Services and Executive leadership teams. These appointments reflect our depth and breadth of leadership talent and our organizational development goals of providing growth opportunities and new challenges for our people."

Mr. Silberhorn continued, "On behalf of the leadership team, I want to thank Nick for his many contributions over the last four years and wish him the best in his future endeavors."

Mr. Johnson joined Apogee in 2011 and has served as President of the Architectural Services Segment and as a member of the Executive Committee since 2020. He has more than 25 years of industry experience. Mr. Christian brings 23 years of Apogee experience to his new position, where he most recently served as the Vice President, Products in the Architectural Metals Segment. Prior to that, he spent more than 19 years in the Architectural Services Segment.
